The information below is for large party reservations during business hours. Other customers will be present and will have shared access to the self-serve beer wall. Please contact cyndi@onobrewco.com if you would like information about renting the entire facility for a private event.

- 1. Do you have event space available at Ono Brewing and how many guests can you accommodate? Our tasting room has 115 seats and 139 person max capacity. Our entire tasting room and outdoor patio are available for a full buyout or a portion of the tasting room or outdoor patio can be reserved for groups of 10 or more. Starting March 14, 2022, we no longer will be taking indoor reservations at Ono Brewing Company on Fridays 4pm-10pm, or Saturday/Sunday all day. Our “Ono Offshore” private event facility located ¼ mile away is available for private events 7 days a week for parties up to 50 people. (see www.onobrewco.com/offshore) The max we can accommodate indoors at Ono Brewing without a full buyout on Mon-Thurs is 26 people. The max we can accommodate outdoors any day without a full buyout is 100 people. Parties at Ono Brewing are semi-private and your group will share the beer wall and common tasting room space with other customers unless you choose the full buyout option or you book our private Ono Offshore event space. Rental rates will be based on how many tables you wish to reserve and which day of the week/time of request (See chart below).
- 2. Do you have a private event space? One option for a completely private venue is to rent out our entire venue, which is perfect for larger groups. (See private event FAQ at www.onobrewco.com/events) We also have a separate completely private event venue called Ono Offshore located ¼ mile down the road that is available for groups of 49 or less. (See Ono Offshore event FAQ at www.onobrewco.com/events)
- 3. How much does it cost to have an event at Ono? Our pricing is based on how many tables/seats you need. The pricing below is for a 2-hour rental and includes a non-refundable deposit to hold the tables and a beverage tab minimum for on premises beverage consumption during the event. Food sales are separate and do not count towards the beverage minimum. We will do our BEST to have the tables ready at the start of your event, but there may be times there is a slight wait as we continue to move guests as needed to clear out all reserved tables. A credit card will be collected at the beginning of the event and if the beer tab minimum is not met, the difference will be charged as a “rental fee” to the credit card on hold. The deposit will be credited back to the beer tab before any rental fee is charged. If more than 2-hours are desired for your event, the beer tab minimum will be adjusted on a case by case basis.

4. Do you have outdoor space available to rent? Is it heated?

We do have outdoor space and it is highly sought after and usually is first come-first served. The Beach Shack is a 500 sq ft covered patio with 30 barstools, bar top tables and standing area to accommodate up to 40 people. It has vinyl sides that can be rolled down in inclement weather. There are infrared heaters in the Beach Shack. One side of the Beach Shack will always remain open to the air to allow other customers to pass through the back side to access tables on the far side of the patio, so it is not completely sealed off on all 4 sides. The heat will not be “indoor heat” level but the heaters and the vinyl sides for wind block should take a significant amount of the chill out of the air, but this is an OUTDOOR space and you should expect that on the coldest days, jackets and possibly gloves will still be needed.

5. How is the beer tab handled with the self-serve beer wall? There are several ways we can handle the "beer minimum" beer tab.

- We can make several beer cards to be left in a basket at your table(s) to be shared by all guests age 21 and over. The cards can be set with an internal limit set to the beer minimum amount, if you desire a set budget. Once the pre-loaded amount has been spent, the party host can choose to have guests start their own tabs at that point or the host can opt to have the limit increased by adding more value to the cards once the minimum has been met.

- We can make several beer cards to be left in a basket at your table(s) to be shared by all guests age 21 and over that can be left as “open tabs” and any amount consumed over the “beer minimum” will be charged to the party host’s credit card.
- We can make individual beer cards with a set limit per card and the host can give cards to each guest for individual use. (For example, $20 per person per card). These cards are active for one day only and the cards must be collected back at the end of the event.
- Guests can pay their own individual beer tab by opening up a personal beer card with a credit card and inform employee they are with the party to have tab counted towards minimum. Any shortage from the amount consumed and the “beer tab minimum” for the event will be charged to the party host.
- In every case, beer cards will need to be collected and returned at the end of the event. A $3 per card “lost card fee” will apply for any beer cards not returned by your guests.

6. What happens if fewer guests attend the event than expected? We reserve and hold the number of tables and make plans, which may include extra staff, based on the amount of expected guests you tell us. If fewer guests show up than expected, you are still obligated to pay the agreed upon “beer tab minimum” at the time of reservation. Please inform us at least a day in advance if your expected number has changed significantly.

7. What happens if more guests attend the event than expected? We reserve and hold the number of tables and make plans, which may include extra staff, based on the amount of expected guests you tell us. If more guests show up, we will make our best attempt to accommodate them, however, there is no guarantee for extra seats beyond those reserved. If we do add extra tables to the party area, the “beer tab minimum” will be adjusted accordingly.

8. What non-alcoholic beverage options are there? We have an assortment of n/a beverages including sodas, teas, fruit flavored water, and juices. Non-alcoholic beverages consumed will count towards beverage minimum.

9. What food options do you have? We have a full-time caterer at Ono who operates a food service business in our tasting room. Odd BBQ serves delicious meals/snacks to our customers daily and has an extensive daily menu and an additional catering menu for large and smaller groups for pre-orders. There is a $300 food minimum for groups who wish to pre-order off the catering menu and have food ready at a certain time. (Appetizers only do not require the $300 minimum). If you don’t want to order off the catering menu, your group can order off the regular menu available at www.oddbbq.com. Each order will be placed at a window and a pager will be provided when food is ready. There is a small private room next to the large party rental area that parties can use for any purchased food from the caterer that is included for the first party that requests the room and reserves the space near the front entrance. Additional food tables will need to be included in the guest table count if you desire to use a table to set up for food only.

- 10. Can we bring outside food? The only outside food allowed to be brought in is a cake or similar dessert option. No other outside food or beverage is allowed.
- 11. Can we bring in wine? Wine/outside alcohol is not allowed on the Ono Brewing premises, per our ABC license. Please note that this includes any gift items. Alcoholic gift items are not allowed on our premises. There are options for wine to be served for full buyout rentals only. We do have a hard seltzer on tap for people who prefer an option other than beer.
- 12. What if I need to cancel our event? Please do call to inform us of a cancellation. The deposit is non-refundable, however, due to the fact that we had blocked that date/time from other potential customers.
- 13. What if we are late for our event? If your group is going to be late, please call ahead to inform us. Your 2-hour reservation window begins at the previously agreed upon time, whether your group is there or not. If your group does not arrive within 15 minutes of agreed start time, and no call has been received, the tables will be released and the deposit will not be returned.
